Elevate your tea or coffee service with this elegant antique silver-plated serving set. Crafted in England circa 1910, the complete 19-piece collection is beautifully presented in its original fitted case, lined with rich golden velvet and ivory satin. Likely produced in Sheffield, England, a renowned center of fine silver craftsmanship, the set showcases intricate floral and foliage engravings throughout.

The collection includes twelve matching teaspoons, two serving spoons, a pair of sugar tongs, a knife, a pierced serving spoon, a ladle, and a decorative sugar dish. The beautifully detailed utensils feature ornate handles embellished with delicate scrolling foliage and floral motifs, while two of the serving pieces are fitted with elegant mother-of-pearl handles. The central silver-plated dish features a scalloped heart-shaped form with an engraved starburst motif and an elaborate raised border.

The original rectangular presentation case is fitted with individual compartments to secure each piece, complemented by luxurious velvet and satin linings. The antique silver-plated set is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, retaining its attractive patina and finely executed decorative details.

Both functional and collectible, this handsome English tea service would make a charming addition to a traditional dining room, elegant tea table, or collection of antique silver.
