Decorate a hallway, dressing room, or living space with this striking Louis Philippe mirror. Crafted in France circa 1870, the classic rounded-corner form is typical of the period, while the contrasting finishes give it a distinctive visual appeal. The outer frame is finished in a rich ebonized black lacquer, while the inner border features a silvered surface with a warm golden undertone, delicately incised with a subtle diamond-cross motif. The mirror retains its original wooden back, constructed of aged pine planks and secured with period nails, offering further authenticity and structural integrity. The reflective plate is in excellent condition, set flush within the frame for a clean, elegant silhouette. Measuring 22.25 inches wide by 30.5 inches high and 1.25 inches deep, this antique mirror balances bold graphic lines with understated ornamentation, making it ideal for both traditional and transitional interiors. Excellent condition commensurate with age and use. New hanging device in the back.
