Crafted in Spain circa 1870, this antique side table or writing desk is constructed from solid walnut and features a warm, rich patina developed over time. The rectangular single-plank top is framed with a border of hand-carved floral rosettes, lending both decorative detail and geometric rhythm to the surface. The table rests on bold lyre-shaped legs, deeply carved with scrolling foliage and floral roundels, joined by a shaped hand-forged iron stretcher for added stability and architectural presence. The robust silhouette and fine carving reflect the Spanish Baroque Revival style, which drew inspiration from the grandeur of 17th-century furniture while adapting it for 19th-century interiors. Measuring 50.5 inches wide, 31.75 inches deep, and 30.5 inches high, this antique table is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use. Its substantial proportions make it ideal as a side table, small desk, or console, bringing both utility and historic Spanish character into today's interior.
