Add grandeur and refinement to your table with this striking 19th century English epergne, crafted in the George III style. Resting on an elegant shaped base with beaded trim and paw feet, the silvered copper frame is richly embellished with classical ornamentation, including acanthus leaves and fluted supports. At the center rises a graceful flame finial, a symbol of enlightenment and refinement, anchoring the piece with sculptural flair. The epergne features a large central cut-glass bowl, finely detailed with scalloped edges, diamond-point patterns, and oval fan motifs. Three satellite bowls extend outward on delicately curved arms, echoing the same brilliant cutwork. The overall composition showcases exceptional craftsmanship and balance, designed to display fruit, sweets, or floral arrangements with stately elegance. The epergne is in good condition commensurate with age and use, and would make a distinguished focal point on any formal dining table, sideboard, or holiday setting.
