This colorful, antique Majolica fruit plate was sculpted in France, circa 1890. The large, circular platter features four hand painted green and red apples hanging from a tree branch covered with green leaves. The sculpted additions are in high relief, and painted in a soft, pastel palette. The porcelain plate attributed to Longchamp, should be hung on a kitchen or breakfast room wall, or display on a shelf as decoration. This ceramic piece is in excellent condition with rich and vivid colors. Hook in the back for easy installation. Measures: 12.75" diameter.
