Crafted in France circa 1860, this elegant 19th-century mirror reflects the refined simplicity of the Louis Philippe style. The tall, rectangular frame is crafted from wood and finished in its original gold leaf, with subtly stepped molding and a finely beaded inner trim. True to the Louis Philippe aesthetic, the design emphasizes clean lines and quiet sophistication over ornamentation. The mirror retains its original wooden parquet back and has been updated with new hanging hardware to allow for both vertical and horizontal display. The glass is clear and reflective, securely set within the frame. Measuring 31 inches wide by 2 inches deep and 66.5 inches high, this understated French mirror offers timeless appeal and versatile styling. Ideal for use above a mantel, in an entryway, or as a full-length dressing mirror, it brings 19th-century charm and subtle grandeur to any interior.
