This refined antique French Louis Philippe wall mirror, crafted circa 1870, features the understated elegance and softly rounded corners characteristic of the period. The frame is finished in warm giltwood and delicately engraved with subtle floral motifs, adding texture and depth without overwhelming its clean silhouette.

The mirror retains its original mercury glass, displaying light foxing and age spotting that enhance its authentic antique character. The original wood backing remains intact, a desirable detail for collectors and a testament to its preservation. This petite mirror is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, with a beautifully aged gilt surface and clear, character-rich glass. Its compact scale makes it ideal for a powder room, entry, or layered into a gallery wall.
