Classic and understated, this antique Louis Philippe mirror was crafted in France circa 1870 and features the style's hallmark rounded corners and clean, elegant lines. The wooden frame is finished in a striking two-tone palette, combining a warm gilt inner molding with a deep black ebonized outer surround. The original mercury glass plate displays subtle aging and desirable silvering throughout, adding authenticity and visual texture. The back is fully intact with original wood paneling and later-added hanging wire for secure wall mounting. Measuring 20.5 inches wide by 1 inch deep and 26.25 inches high, this antique French mirror is an ideal accent for a powder room, entryway, or above a console. Excellent condition commensurate with age and use. A timeless decorative piece that blends seamlessly into both traditional and modern interiors.
