Crafted in France circa 1860, this elegant Louis Philippe guéridon features a round walnut top over a boldly turned central pedestal with baluster and ring details. The richly grained walnut displays a warm, honey-toned patina with visible knots, subtle color variation, and surface wear consistent with its antique age. The tripod base rests on three sinuous legs with a soft scroll profile, offering graceful support and refined balance. The underside shows classic 19th-century construction, including wooden cleats and peg joinery. With its compact scale and timeless silhouette, this antique French side table is ideal for use as a lamp table, wine table, or decorative accent in any interior setting. Dimensions: 27.75" diameter x 29.5" high Excellent condition with light wear commensurate with age and use.
