Elevate your dining space with this refined set of eight Louis XVI style side chairs. Crafted in France circa 1890, each chair features a classic oval-shaped back framed with hand-carved laurel leaf motifs and rosettes at the corners, exemplifying the neoclassical elegance of the period. The chairs adorn a rich two-tone hand-painted and textured patinated finish in the light grey and beige. The seats and backs are newly upholstered in a neutral taupe-linen fabric, offering a clean, tailored look that complements both traditional and contemporary interiors. Raised on fluted and tapered legs with carved block joints, these chairs embody the symmetry and restraint typical of Louis XVI design. In excellent condition commensurate with age and use, this antique set blends timeless French sophistication with everyday comfort, ideal for a formal dining room, stylish breakfast nook, or refined side seating in a salon.
