This antique gadrooned urn composition was crafted in France circa 1880 and is made of solid cast iron. At its center rises a dramatic arrangement of hand-forged barbed iron spikes, artfully shaped to resemble a thorny bush with sharp, arrowhead-like tips. The contrast between the classical Medici style urn and the bold, sculptural ironwork creates a striking visual tension, blending traditional design with gothic flair. The garden decor is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use and adorns a patinated white and blackened finish with evidence of outdoor use. Ideal for courtyards, gardens, or as an interior statement piece, this unique urn sculpture works beautifully as a standalone object or integrated into a larger architectural or landscape design. Its commanding presence and timeless materials make it a versatile and captivating addition to both classic and contemporary spaces. Weighs 77 pounds! Measures: 22.5" W x 21" D x 44" H.
