This set of round antique pans, were crafted in France, circa 1860. Made of copper with a large forged iron handle attached with rivets, these country kitchen essentials could still be used for cooking. The pots are in excellent condition, and each adorns a rich, patinated polished finish. These sturdy, versatile, traditional pieces could also be used as a hanging kitchen decor or displayed atop a cabinet. Included is one large saute pan, one small sauté pan, and one sauce pan.
