Decorate a study, library, or living room with this dramatic antique figural lamp crafted in France circa 1880. Originally sculpted as a 19th century decorative composition, the piece has been professionally mounted as a table lamp, combining sculptural artistry with practical function. The composition depicts two Renaissance-style warriors in richly detailed period armor, one standing triumphantly with shield and sword while the second kneels beside him in a dynamic pose. The figures display expressive facial features, flowing garments, and finely cast armor details throughout.
The sculpture is crafted of bronze with a rich patinated silvered finish that highlights the depth and movement of the composition. Mounted on a stepped wooden base dressed with a velvet top, the lamp has been wired with double sockets and fitted with a custom rectangular shade for a refined silhouette. The antique lamp remains in excellent condition commensurate with age and use and adorns a beautifully aged patinated silver finish throughout.
