Bring refined Victorian charm to your table with this antique English cruet set. Crafted in England circa 1880, and set on a circular silver-plated tray raised on ball feet and adorned with a beaded edge, the ensemble features five intricately cut crystal vessels, each secured in silver-mounted rings. The set comprises two faceted bottles for oil and vinegar with stoppers, a matching pair of silver-topped salt and pepper shakers, and a lidded sugar container complete with its coordinating spoon. Each crystal piece is richly decorated with crosshatch and fluted motifs, offering brilliant clarity and sparkle. The centerpiece is a finely cast silver handle crowned with classical motifs including a shell, floral garland, and rope twist detailing. In good condition commensurate with age and use, this complete and functional cruet set makes an elegant addition to a formal dining setting or decorative sideboard display. One Stopper is partially broken on its stem, there is evidence of previous repairs to two of the crystal vessels see detailed images. Measures: 10.25"W x 7.5"D x 8.75"H
