Serve wine with rustic charm using this antique French carved walnut bottle holder, sculpted circa 1920 in the form of a traditional sabot (wooden clog). Inspired by the Black Forest style, the piece is richly hand carved with high relief grapevine motifs, including clusters of grapes, large veined leaves, and twisting branches that wrap organically around the form. The handle is cleverly shaped as a naturalistic tree limb, adding both function and sculptural appeal.
Designed to cradle a bottle at an angle for easy pouring, the holder features a metal hook at the front to secure the neck in place, making it as practical as it is decorative. The surface is finished in a warm and rich walnut patina, highlighting the depth and craftsmanship of the carving.
This antique wine cradle is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and would make a distinctive addition to a bar, wine cellar, or dining setting, perfect for entertaining with character and authenticity.
