Bring subtle charm and texture to a wall with this antique French faux bamboo mirror, crafted circa 1900. The rectangular frame is constructed of finely turned wood carved to imitate bamboo canes, complete with stylized nodes and angled capped finials, reflecting the enduring influence of exoticism and Japonisme in French decorative arts at the turn of the century. The warm honey-toned finish enhances the naturalistic effect and highlights the crisp lathe work throughout.

The mirror retains its original glass with light age-appropriate spotting, adding character and authenticity. The back features its original wood panel and hanging wire for easy installation. Versatile in scale and presentation, the piece may be displayed vertically or horizontally depending on preference, making it ideal for a powder room, layered gallery wall, bedroom, or above a small console where it adds warmth without overwhelming the space.

The antique wall mirror is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and adorns a rich, time-softened patina with minor wear consistent with its antique nature.

Dimensions: 15.75"W x 18"H.
