Crafted in France circa 1920, this impressive antique monastery refectory table reflects the robust character and timeless simplicity associated with traditional French farm and monastic furniture. The long rectangular top is fashioned from thick walnut planks displaying a rich, warm patina with visible grain movement and natural wear that speak to decades of honest use. The substantial top rests on a pair of sculptural Montferrer-style trestle supports. Each pedestal is carved in a bold baluster form and raised on stepped bridge feet, creating a strong architectural profile beneath the tabletop. The bases are joined by a solid cross stretcher constructed with traditional mortise and tenon joinery, reinforcing the table's stability while emphasizing its classic refectory silhouette. With its generous proportions and accommodating 8 to 10 people, this antique French farm table would serve beautifully as the centerpiece of a dining room, kitchen, wine cellar, or large entertaining space. The warm walnut finish and simple monastic lines allow the piece to integrate effortlessly into both rustic country interiors and more refined settings. The table is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use and retains a rich, well-preserved patinated finish. Dimensions: 87"W x 31.5"D x 31"H
