Hand carved in Brazil, this elegant rock crystal bowl features a deeply scalloped form with a beautifully polished surface and luminous natural translucency. The thick crystal body reveals striking internal veining and inclusions that catch the light and give the piece exceptional depth and character. Round in shape with a gently lobed rim, this decorative bowl works beautifully as a vide-poche on an entry console, vanity, or cocktail table. It is also ideal in a powder room for holding a bar of soap or guest essentials, where the natural crystal surface adds a refined and luxurious touch. Its sculptural silhouette and substantial weight give the piece a strong presence despite its modest scale. In excellent condition, with natural variations and inclusions inherent to the stone. Dimensions: 6.75"diamter x 2.75"H
