Bring refined French elegance to a dining room or breakfast area with this sophisticated Louis XV-style dining suite. Crafted in France circa 1980 from solid oak, the ensemble includes a round pedestal dining table and six matching upholstered side chairs, all finished in a warm bleached oak patina that highlights the natural grain and carved detailing throughout.

The round tabletop features an intricate parquet surface arranged in a geometric chevron pattern, framed by a molded edge and raised over a substantial carved pedestal base. The sculptural center support is richly decorated with gadrooned lobes above a shaped tiered plinth, giving the table an impressive architectural presence while maintaining graceful proportions ideal for everyday dining or entertaining.

The six matching chairs are beautifully executed with tall arched backs, scalloped aprons, and elegant cabriole legs accented with hand-carved acanthus motifs. Upholstered in a muted salmon-toned fabric and finished with brass nailhead trim, the chairs offer both comfort and classic French character. The soft neutral palette pairs effortlessly with traditional, transitional, or country-style interiors.

The dining suite is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and adorns a rich lightly distressed oak finish throughout.
