Add a touch of charm and whimsy to your table with this unique style duck-form soup tureen. Crafted in Italy circa 1980, the ceramic serving piece is modeled as a resting mallard, complete with a removable lid forming the duck's back and head, and a fitted ladle that rests neatly through the side opening. The tureen is hand-painted with rich naturalistic tones, including mottled brown plumage, soft cream underbody, and subtle accents of green, blue, and plum, all finished with a glossy glaze that enhances the detailed featherwork.
The interior is clean white glazed ceramic, designed for practical serving, while the exterior offers a sculptural presentation ideal for entertaining or display. The ladle features a decorative feather motif at the handle, complementing the overall theme. The underside is marked "Made in Italy," confirming its origin.
This decorative serving vessel is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, with vivid coloration. A delightful and functional piece, perfect for a dining table, kitchen display, or as a conversation-starting centerpiece.
