Bring timeless French character and inviting comfort to any interior with this handsome antique club armchair, crafted in France circa 1960. Inspired by the enduring Art Deco tradition, the chair features the classic “moustache” back, softly sculpted with a gentle crest, paired with generous rolled arms and a deep, lounge-worthy seat that define the iconic fauteuil club silhouette. Upholstered in a rich chestnut-brown leather, the surface displays a warm, natural patina with subtle tonal variations that enhance its depth and authenticity. The leather has a smooth, supple feel, beautifully broken in from age and use. A thick, loose seat cushion provides excellent comfort, while the back is accented with nailhead trim that follows the elegant contours of the frame, adding a refined decorative detail. The chair rests on low block feet, giving it a grounded, substantial presence typical of classic French club seating. Its well-balanced proportions and sculptural form make it equally suited for a study, library, or fireside arrangement. A quintessential French antique club chair that combines comfort, durability, and enduring style. In excellent condition commensurate with age and use. Dimensions: 39.5”W x 39”D x 31”H; Seat Height: 16.75”H
