Decorate a hearth with this elegant antique fireplace companion set. Crafted in France circa 1950, the Mid-Century ensemble is made of solid brass and stands on an oval marble base framed by a brass gallery with decorative finials. The set includes four fireplace tools: a shovel, brush, poker, and tongs, all suspended from a matching brass stand. Each tool features a white veined marble handle accented with brass finials, creating a refined contrast between the warm metal and cool stone. The stand is supported by slender brass uprights and topped with a shaped hanger fitted with individual hooks for the tools. The oval base is inset with a white marble plaque, echoing the handles and adding a touch of sophistication to the design.

Both functional and decorative, this French fireplace set combines clean Mid-Century lines with classical Empire-inspired details. The brass has acquired a rich patinated finish over time, consistent with age and use. A handsome accessory for a traditional or contemporary interior, presented in excellent condition commensurate with age and use.
