Elegant French desk set crafted circa 1950, executed in richly figured burl wood with a warm and luminous patina. The ensemble includes a shaped letter holder with three graduated compartments, a fitted writing surface with inset red leather, a blotter, ink blotter rocker, and additional organizing elements, all unified by refined boxwood stringing and meticulous edge detailing.

The sculptural letter rack features softly curved lines and tiered storage, offering both visual presence and practical organization for correspondence. The writing board is inset with its original red leather surface, showing gentle wear and light markings consistent with use, adding authentic character. Each piece is finely finished, showcasing the natural beauty and variation of the burl veneer.

This complete antique desk garniture would elevate an office, study, or library, bringing a sophisticated French touch to a writing table or executive desk.

The set is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use.
