This elegant antique French cut crystal ice bucket was crafted circa 1960 and reflects the refined glamour of mid-century entertaining. The cylindrical form is richly decorated with a deeply cut repeating starburst and diamond motif, creating brilliant light refraction and exceptional clarity throughout. The sculptural taper and substantial weight give the piece both visual presence and practical stability for tabletop or bar use. The bucket is fitted with a polished silver-tone metal collar secured at each side with bold geometric mounts and circular ring handles. The clean lines of the mount contrast beautifully with the intricate crystal cutting, adding a subtle architectural edge while maintaining a classic French sophistication. The underside features a finely cut radiating star medallion, a detail that highlights the quality of the craftsmanship and elevates the piece beyond simple barware. The crystal remains in excellent antique condition commensurate with age and use, with crisp cutting and no visible structural damage. The metal collar shows light surface wear consistent with handling over time. A timeless addition to any bar cart, dining room, or cocktail setting, this antique French crystal ice bucket offers both functional service and decorative brilliance for refined entertaining.
