This charming mid-century French faux bamboo wall mirror brings a warm, decorative accent to a powder room, entry, bedroom, or gallery wall. Crafted circa 1960, the antique-style mirror features a rectangular frame carved and turned to resemble bamboo, with rounded posts, ringed joints, and angled cut ends that give the piece a playful yet refined French Riviera character. The honey-toned wood finish is accented with darker details at the joints, creating depth and emphasizing the faux bamboo construction.
The mirror plate is set within the frame and backed with a wood panel, with hanging wire attached for easy wall installation. Its compact scale makes it ideal above a small chest, between windows, in a bathroom, or layered into a collection of mirrors and artwork. The piece is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, with light surface wear and a warm, rich patina that adds to its vintage appeal. A stylish decorative mirror with timeless faux bamboo charm.
