Bring timeless French elegance to your dining room or breakfast area with this set of four antique-style dining chairs crafted in France circa 1970. Inspired by the refined lines of the Louis XVI period, each chair features an oval medallion back, a painted cream finish, and finely fluted tapered legs terminating in turned feet. The square corner blocks are decorated with carved floral rosettes, a classic neoclassical detail that enhances the sophisticated silhouette. The chairs retain their upholstered backs and seats dressed in a textured diamond-pattern fabric accented with brass nailhead trim. The neutral palette complements both traditional and contemporary interiors, while the generous padded seats provide excellent comfort for everyday dining. The painted finish has been lightly distressed over time, creating a soft patina that adds warmth and character.

Strong, sturdy, and versatile, these Mid-Century French chairs are ideal around a dining table, as occasional seating, or placed individually throughout a home. The set is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, with minor wear to the painted finish and upholstery consistent with age.
