The gilt-brass frame features finely fluted legs, decorative beaded collars, and tapered feet, each capped with neoclassical finials. Both tiers have square tops inset with light onyx panels, their creamy beige ground enlivened by warm honey, caramel, and amber veining. Each shelf is framed in brass for a crisp, tailored profile, while the gilt finish displays a gentle patina that enhances the table's vintage charm. The table presents beautifully, with the gilt finish retaining a warm, even patina and the onyx shelves in excellent condition, their natural veining adding to the piece's timeless appeal. Since 1860, Maison Baguès has been located in the heart of Paris, specializing in the creation of luxury furniture and lighting. Renowned internationally as an emblem of French savoir-faire in wrought iron and fine metalwork, the firm has long represented the pinnacle of French craftsmanship. Dimensions: 13" W x 13" D x 27" H
