Bring sleek French elegance to a dining or cocktail table with this large mid-century serving platter crafted in France circa 1950. Fashioned in silvered bronze with a long elongated oval form and faceted ends, the tray features clean architectural lines characteristic of the refined modernist aesthetic of the period. The broad raised border frames the shallow center beautifully, making the piece ideal for presenting a whole fish, cheese assortment, vegetables, hors d'oeuvres, or bar service.

The substantial platter has a polished silvered finish with soft age-appropriate wear and light surface scratches consistent with use, adding authenticity and vintage character. Its minimalist silhouette allows it to transition effortlessly from traditional to contemporary interiors, whether displayed on a buffet, dining table, or kitchen island.

The antique serving piece is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and adorns a rich time-softened silvered patina.
