Bring a touch of whimsical Italian charm to a tabletop or garden room with this colorful vintage majolica planter composition. Crafted in Italy circa 1960, the sculptural ceramic cachepot features an elegant white swan perched gracefully along the rim of a textured faux bois planter, creating a lively and highly decorative silhouette from every angle. Richly glazed in warm chestnut brown, cream, green, and black tones, the piece showcases the expressive modeling and glossy finish associated with traditional Italian barbotine ceramics.

The large swan is beautifully detailed with deeply carved feathers, a curved neck, and hand-painted facial features, while the basket-form vessel is designed with rustic branch-form decoration for added texture and visual depth. Both playful and sophisticated, this vintage planter makes an eye-catching centerpiece for a console, breakfast table, sunroom, or covered patio. The majolica cachepot is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and retains the original "Made in Italy" mark on the underside.
