Decorate a wall, study, or wine cellar with this richly carved pair of antique decorative panels. Crafted in France circa 1880, each oak panel is set within a handsome molded frame and features a deeply carved central motif in high relief, celebrating traditional harvest themes. One panel depicts a wine barrel adorned with grape clusters and vine leaves, while the other showcases a bundle of wheat, a sickle, and pastoral elements tied with a ribbon, evoking the bounty of the countryside.

The panels are framed with a layered composition, including an inner carved oak border, a warm reddish ground, and an outer giltwood frame decorated with scrolling foliate motifs, adding contrast and refinement to the rustic carvings. The oak surfaces exhibit a warm and rich patina, with visible grain and hand-carved details that bring depth and character to each piece.

Versatile in placement, these antique panels may be hung side by side, incorporated into a larger wall composition, or even mounted as cabinet or overdoor elements. The pair is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use.
