Decorate an entryway with this elegant pair of antique painted consoles. Crafted in northern France, circa 1880 and shaped as half moon, each style table stands on four tapered and rounded legs decorated with diamond shape rosettes at the shoulders; the bombe table has a curved apron embellished with three diamond motifs and the half moon top is dressed with a painted surface. The Directoire style demi-lune consoles are in excellent condition and adorn a rich textured patinated painted finish in a Classic gray and white palette. Versatile and narrow, they could be also placed on both sides of a bay window. Measures: 45.25" W x 22.5" D x 32.5" H.
