Place these elegant antique stools in a living room or a den for extra seating. Crafted in Southern France circa 1870, the fruitwood pieces feature fine, hand carved scrolled sheep bone legs decorated with a central curved stretcher. The "Os de Mouton" seating, have been recovered with a white muslin, waiting to be upholstered. Both Louis XIII style stools are in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and adorn a rich walnut patina throughout the frame. Measures: 25" W x 19" D x 17.5" H.
