Crafted in northern France circa 1880, each "Confiturier" (French for jelly cabinet), stands on tapered and fluted legs over a carved straight apron. The cabinet features a single door with recessed panel decorated with hand carved rosettes medallions motifs in each corner, over a drawer across the front, dressed with an iron pull. Both tall cabinets are in excellent condition with a textured patinated painted finish in the light blue grey palette and could also be used as nightstands or bedside tables. Inside shelving for additional storage. Keys included. Measures: 25" W x 15" D x 39.25" H.
