These elegant antique chromo lithographs were created in Normandy circa 1880. Set in a carved gilt frame from later addition, each artwork depicts joyful children at play; both scenes depict a young boy learning arithmetic supervised by her older sister. The charming paintings are in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and adorn rich and wonderful colors; a colorful wall addition to any den, bedroom or playroom. Signed Erpikum in the bottom right corner. 18"W x 24"H.
