Add a touch of sophistication to your décor with this exquisite pair of antique French mirrors. Crafted in France circa 1860, each rectangular frame is silver plated and embellished with finely chased repoussé work showcasing scrolling acanthus leaves and a central foliate cartouche crest. The lower corners are adorned with sculptural lion paw feet, adding a bold decorative touch and a sense of classical grandeur. The sculpted edges and relief details catch the light beautifully, giving the mirrors an elegant and refined presence. The wooden backs are fitted with wall hangers, making them easy to display on any wall. In excellent condition commensurate with age and use, these mirrors are perfect for flanking a mantel, accenting a powder room, or serving as striking focal points on a gallery wall.
