This pair of contemporary Brazilian table lamps combines the natural beauty of rock crystal with refined sculptural design. Crafted in Brazil circa 2010, each lamp features a tall, hand-carved rock crystal body resting on a thick, circular clear acrylic base, creating a sophisticated blend of traditional craftsmanship and modern style.

The matching lamps showcase graceful baluster-shaped silhouettes composed of elongated, polished crystal sections separated by rounded collars and molded details. Each rises from a wide, flared crystal foot, giving the slender composition a balanced and architectural appearance. The translucent white rock crystal displays natural cloudy inclusions, delicate internal veining, and subtle variations in tone, beautifully reflecting and diffusing light across its polished surfaces.

The clear acrylic bases provide stability while maintaining a light, contemporary appearance that complements the crystalline forms. Each lamp is fitted with a brass socket, a gold-tone electrical cord, and an inline on-off switch. The combination of warm brass accents, luminous white crystal, and transparent acrylic creates an appealing contrast of materials and textures.

Ideal for bedside tables, a living room console, or matching end tables flanking a sofa, these versatile lamps complement both traditional and contemporary interiors.

The pair is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, retaining the natural mineral inclusions and variations characteristic of genuine rock crystal. Wired for U.S. use. Shades not included.

Dimensions: 6" Diameter x 18" H (to the top of the socket), each.
