Bring timeless sophistication to a living room, bedroom, or sitting area with this pair of contemporary Brazilian rock crystal table lamps. Crafted in Brazil circa 2010, each lamp features a beautifully carved and polished rock crystal body with a graceful baluster silhouette, resting on a thick circular clear acrylic base.

The sculptural lamps are intricately shaped with elongated bulbous stems, rounded collars, and finely turned details, showcasing the craftsmanship and natural beauty of the stone. The translucent white rock crystal displays delicate veining, cloudy inclusions, and subtle variations in tone, creating a luminous effect as light passes through the mineral. The clear acrylic bases provide a modern contrast while enhancing the airy appearance of the lamps.

Each lamp is fitted with a brass socket and gold-tone electrical cord with an inline switch. Combining classical proportions with contemporary design, these versatile lamps would make a wonderful addition to bedside tables, a console, or a pair of end tables flanking a sofa.

The Brazilian rock crystal lamps are in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, with natural mineral inclusions characteristic of genuine rock crystal. Wired for U.S. use. Shades not included.
