Decorate a shelf or kitchen counter with this elegant pair of antique Delft olive oil or vinegar containers. Crafted in Holland circa 1920, both tall vases feature an intricate shape and are dressed with a side handle. Each vessel is hand painted in the traditional soft blue and white Delft palette; the jars are decorated with sailboat motifs, and embellished with floral and foliage decor throughout. The porcelain bottles are in excellent condition, with soft hand painted colors, and are stamped "Delft" on the bottom for further authenticity and provenance. Measures: 9" H.
