Elevate a dining room, kitchen island, bedroom or hallway with this elegant pair of antique French chandeliers, crafted circa 1920. Each fixture is beautifully fashioned in painted tole with a soft cream finish and delicate gilt accents, designed in a graceful Louis XV taste with scrolling, nature-inspired movement.

Each chandelier features eight candle-form lights arranged around a circular frame, dressed with finely worked leafy branches and adorned throughout with hanging faceted crystal prisms that catch and reflect the light. The sculptural composition continues upward with an airy, open crown formed of twisting vines and foliage, giving the fixtures a light, romantic silhouette.

The painted surface shows a desirable aged patina with subtle wear and speckling, enhancing the authentic antique character. The pair has been newly wired to US standards and is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use. These chandeliers would make a stunning statement installed as a pair over a long dining table or kitchen island, or used individually in separate rooms for a cohesive decorative story.
