Decorate a dining table or mantel with this elegant pair of antique silver-plated candelabras, crafted in France circa 1910. Each piece features two scrolling arms issuing from a central stem, richly adorned with Rococo-inspired foliate and shell motifs, and finished with detailed fluted bobeches.
The asymmetrical arms are gracefully curved and embellished with acanthus leaves, leading to finely cast candle cups with scalloped edges. The baluster-form stems rise from wide, ornate bases decorated with dense repoussé floral patterns, providing both stability and visual richness. The silver plate finish is bright and reflective, enhancing the intricate detailing throughout.
The pair is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, with a beautifully maintained patinated surface. These candelabra would make a refined statement on a dining table, console, or buffet, bringing classic French elegance and warm candlelight to any interior. Each one weighs 8 pounds.
