Illuminate a living room, dining room, or entryway with this elegant pair of vintage French wall sconces. Crafted in France circa 1960, each five-light fixture is designed in the classic Louis XVI style and features an ornate gilt bronze frame embellished with sparkling crystal pendants and delicate neoclassical motifs.

Each sconce is crowned with a finely sculpted ribbon bow, from which graceful crystal bead swags cascade along the upper section. Five scrolling arms extend from the central structure, each supporting a circular candleholder with a decorative bobeche. The fixtures are richly adorned with faceted crystal drops, floral rosettes, and large shaped glass pendants that beautifully reflect the surrounding light. Additional decorative elements include ribbon motifs, acanthus leaves, and a sculptural finial at the base, creating an elegant and balanced composition.

The decorative wall lights are in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, retaining a rich bronze doré finish with warm golden tones throughout. Both fixtures are currently unwired and can be used with candles or professionally electrified upon request.

Display these sophisticated French sconces on either side of a mantel, mirror, or doorway to bring timeless Louis XVI elegance and sparkle to a traditional interior.

Dimensions: 17"W x 11"D x 25"H (each).
