Decorate a pair of bedside tables or a console with these elegant antique-style table lamps. Crafted in Italy circa 1970, each lamp features a polygonal plinth base rising to a classical urn-form body, richly carved with scrolling acanthus leaf motifs that wrap the form with depth and movement.

The sculptural bases are finished in a beautifully aged silver leaf patina with subtle gilt accents, enhancing the carved details and lending a refined neoclassical presence. The proportions are well balanced, making the pair versatile for both traditional and transitional interiors.

Each lamp has been newly wired with a single light socket for immediate use. Decorative finials, harps and shades not included.

The lamps are in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, with minor wear to the finish consistent with their vintage character. A sophisticated and timeless pair, ideal for adding texture and architectural interest to any room.
