This handsome pair of Spanish walnut trestle tables or benches was crafted in Spain circa 1950 and reflects a mid-century interpretation of traditional Spanish rustic furniture. Each piece is constructed from solid walnut and features a thick rectangular top formed from a single plank, with visible tool marks, knots, and natural surface variation that give the pieces depth and character. The tables rest on boldly carved scrolled trestle supports, sculptural in form and rooted in historic Spanish design. Each base is joined by a hand-forged iron stretcher, providing excellent structural stability while adding a subtle industrial contrast to the warmth of the walnut. The iron retains a dark, naturally aged surface consistent with traditional forging techniques. The pair is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, displaying a warm and richly developed walnut patina with honest wear that enhances their authenticity. Substantial yet versatile, these tables are ideal as coffee tables, small occasional benches or side tables, bringing architectural presence and timeless Spanish character. Dimensions (each): 36"W x 14.25"D x 17.5"H
