Add warmth, texture, and refined French character to an interior with this elegant pair of decorative pillows crafted from 19th century Aubusson tapestry fragments. Handmade in France, each rectangular pillow features a beautifully woven floral composition set against a soft cream ground, showcasing blooming roses, peonies, and delicate garden flowers in rich shades of burgundy, blush pink, sage green, pale blue, and ivory. The romantic palette and painterly detailing reflect the timeless sophistication associated with Aubusson textiles.

Each pillow is finished with an elaborate braided fringe trim accented with decorative tassels in rose, coral, and gold tones, creating a luxurious layered appearance and adding wonderful movement and texture. The reverse side is upholstered in a complementary neutral velvet, offering a soft contrast to the intricate needlework tapestry front. Filled with down inserts for comfort and fullness, the pillows are both decorative and functional.

Rich in color yet versatile in palette, these antique tapestry pillows are ideal for a sofa, chaise longue, armchairs, or a master bed, bringing collected French country elegance and old-world charm to both traditional and layered transitional interiors. The pair remains in excellent condition commensurate with age and use.
