Enhance a powder room or hallway with this charming antique silvered mirror. Crafted in France circa 1870, the petite mirror exemplifies the Louis Philippe style, with its characteristic rounded top corners and clean, symmetrical lines. The molded frame is finished in a worn silver leaf patina, offering a cool-toned alternative to traditional gilt, ideal for interiors seeking a subtle touch of refinement. The surface displays an attractively aged silver finish with a softly mottled texture and faint traces of underlying warm tones, contributing to the piece's authentic 19th-century charm. The mirror plate is clear and intact, while the mirror retains its original wooden plank back, visible in excellent condition. Measuring 20.5 inches wide by 28.5 inches high, this well-proportioned Louis Philippe mirror is a versatile and timeless decorative accent. Good condition commensurate with age and use. One scratch on the mirror. New hanging device in the back.
