Crafted in France circa 1980, this large vintage dining table combines the graceful curves of Louis XV design with the rustic elegance of traditional French ironwork. Measuring over six feet in diameter, the impressive round table features a beautifully executed wrought iron base supporting a thick circular faux stone top.

The sculptural base is constructed with elegantly curved iron legs embellished with decorative scrolls and volutes, joined by an intricate central stretcher. The elaborate ironwork is further accented with gilt collars and a decorative central finial, adding refinement to the overall design. The iron retains a rich, dark flamed finish with subtle gilt accents, creating an attractive contrast with the tabletop.

The substantial circular top is constructed with a sturdy wood core and finished in a textured faux stone surface, beautifully replicating the appearance of aged natural stone in soft gray and earthy tones. Its generous proportions comfortably accommodate six to ten guests, making it ideal for entertaining.

The vintage Louis XV style table is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, with an attractive patina throughout. Versatile and substantial, this French dining table would make a wonderful centerpiece in a breakfast room, dining room, or spacious kitchen.

Dimensions: 72.25" Diameter x 30.75"H.
